WELCOME

Welcome to EBHL London 2023: an international conference for everyone who loves plants, libraries, archives, and special collections...

We're delighted to offer a varied programme, with four days of talks, tours, and social events jointly hosted at four of the UK's leading botanical, horticultural and natural history institutions: the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew; the Linnean Society of London; the Royal Horticultural Society, and the Natural History Museum.

The theme for this year's conference is "plant humanities"—the interdisciplinary study of plants from the perspectives of experts in the arts, sciences, and humanities—in order to explore their extraordinary significance to human culture. This will include a number of lectures and brief talks, in addition to a collaborative workshop hosted with academics, library, archive and conservation professionals at the Linnean Society of London.

In addition, delegates will enjoy a full programme of visits and social events, including exclusive, behind-the-scenes tours of the four venues, an evening wine reception at the Linnean Society of London, and a gala reception in the beautiful surroundings of the Chelsea Physic Garden (including garden access and a complimentary pre-dinner tour).

We look forward to welcoming you, over the next four days, for a joyous celebration of all things botanical!

Dr Isabelle Charmantier
Secretary, European Botanical and Horticultural Libraries

Will Beharrell
Librarian, Linnean Society of London
& Linnaeus Link Project Administrator

ACCOMMODATION

ACCOMMODATION

A group discount has been arranged at the EasyHotel Shoreditch for the exclusive use of EBHL attendees.

Delegates are advised that the EasyHotel Group is a budget chain. Rooms will be comfortable, but small. Towels, bedding and basic toiletries are provided.

There is no breakfast provided by the hotel, but a number of good cafes are located within easy walk.

Further information about the hotel can be found here:

<https://www.easyhotel.com/hotels/united-kingdom/london/london-city-shoreditch>

The address of the hotel is:
80 Old Street
London EC1V 9AZ

The hotel's telephone number is:
+44 (0) 20 3976 4890

You may direct non-urgent enquiries to the Group Bookings Coordinator at:
groupseasyhotel.com

One of the conference organisers, Will Beharrell, will be staying at the hotel, and can be contacted in case of emergencies. His email and mobile telephone number are included in the "Useful Information" section of this programme.

FOOD

FOOD

Breakfast

Delegates will need to make their own arrangements for breakfast.

For those staying at the conference hotel, an excellent (if expensive) breakfast can be found at one of the many establishments along Old Street: for example, The Coffee Tree or Pinch of Salt cafes are both within two minutes walk of the hotel.

Lunch

A lunch will be provided for delegates on each day of the conference. This will generally comprise a buffet of sandwiches and fruit, as well as tea, coffee, juice, pastries and biscuits.

Dinner

Delegates will be welcomed with a Gala Dinner in the beautiful surroundings of the Chelsea Physic Garden on the first night of the conference. Following a glass of prosecco, attendees will be able to select from a menu of:

- Marinated Shetland salmon fillet
- Red tractor farm crispy belly pork
- Mushroom and feta shawarma, grilled pitta, sumac mayo slaw and beetroot houmous (Vegan).

These will be prepared live, barbeque-style, by chefs from the Company of Cooks.

 PLEASE NOTE: ATTENDANCE AT THE GALA DINNER MUST HAVE BEEN BOOKED IN ADVANCE - PLEASE CONSULT YOUR TICKET ***

COMPANY OF COOKS

Delegates are free to make their own choices for dinner on the other nights of the conference. London has so many wonderful restaurants to try!

For attendees traveling alone, or unsure of where to have dinner on the other evenings, conference co-organizer Will Beharrell is happy to make suggestions, or make bookings for small groups (at delegates' own expense). Some recommendations are below, and Will's mobile number is in the "Useful Information" section.

TRAVEL

TRAVEL

With the exception of the excursion to RHS Wisley—where a private hire coach has been provided—delegates will need to make their own arrangements for travel to and from the conference venues.

Happily, London has a large and (mostly!) reliable public transport system, and all the London venues are easily reachable by bus, train, or the London Underground.

The following advice is aimed primarily at international delegates, who may not have visited London before. It assumes a journey from the conference hotel in Shoreditch, east London, to each of the four venues.

For delegates staying in the hotel, conference contact Will Beharrell is happy to meet delegates in the foyer and travel with them by public transport to the venues each morning. The group will leave at approximately the following times.

Day 1: Meet at 9am, depart at 9:10am

Day 2: Meet at 8am, depart at 8:10am

Day 3: Meet at 9:10am, depart at 9:20am

Day 4: Meet at 8:10am, depart at 8:20am

If delegates have any questions or concerns about transport, please email library@linnean.org, and the co-organisers will do their best to help.

Further information can also be found on the Transport for London website at:

<https://tfl.gov.uk/>

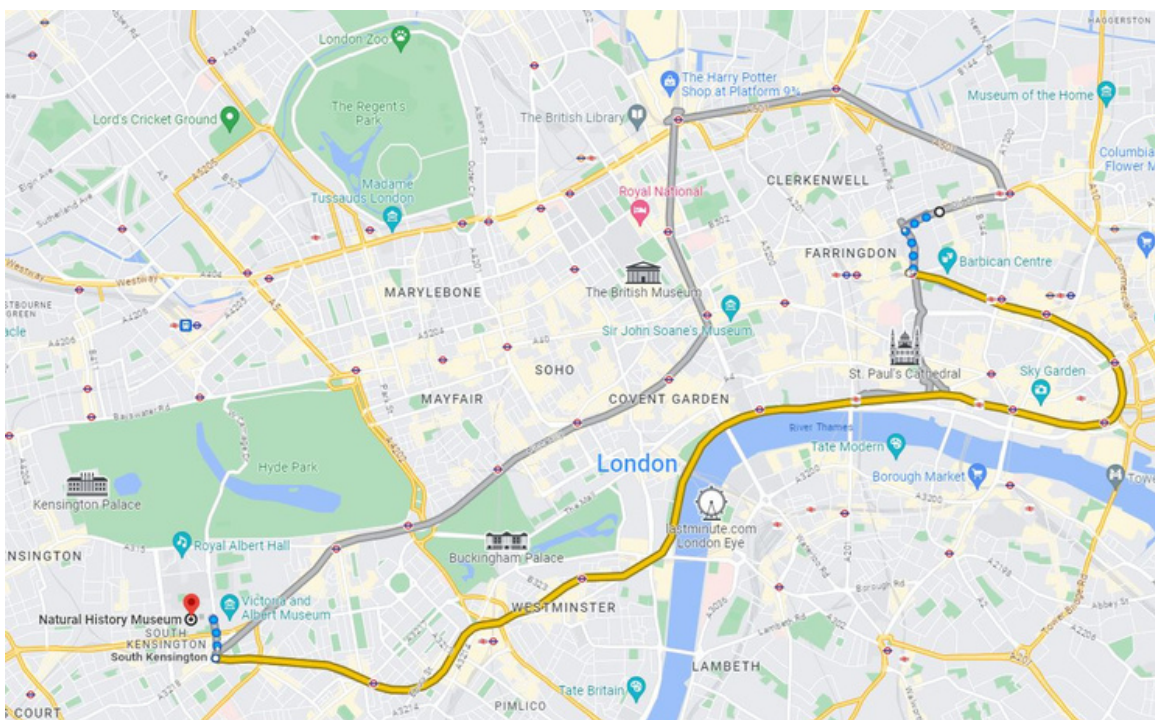

Delegates with a smartphone may also wish to download the Transport for London app: TFL Go.

NHBS has been working in partnership with libraries for almost forty years. As well as stocking all the top-selling books, we work hard to seek out and make available difficult-to-source titles. As a result, we catalogue over 200 new wildlife, ecology and conservation titles per month, making us a specialist in our field.

If you are a librarian or purchase on behalf of a library, get in touch with us about opening a Library account and take advantage of discounts on all your orders.

- Library discounts: 5% default, 10% (> £2000 p.a.), higher discounts negotiable.
- Quotations and proforma invoices are available.
- 30-day credit terms for approved accounts.
- Invoice in £, €, and US$; pay using the method that suits you best.
- Worldwide delivery.
